Of Dwarves and Giants

We feel like giants on whose shoulders nature's standing, but actually it is us standing on the shoulders of microbic giants who have been ruling this world since the dawn of life colonizing primeval volcanos and eternal ice.

Who will prevail?

Thunderstorm

The thunderstorm that noone thought it would come no one knew how big it was and no one was prepared

it is still here

the thunderstorm that has lasted more than a year

The virus

Corona is controlling our world right now

I am sure that we can solve that problem somehow but until we finally made it take care and stay fit

do not despise other either because they aren't happy with the situation neither so hold on and stay strong until the virus is gone

Day in, day out

Day in, day out
Everything is the same
A constant moving in the same circle

Moments we experienced Good and bad
A reminder of another time, where the world was different

Find the focus again
Find oneself again
A priority in these times

What is it?

Everyone has this feeling

Everybody wonders: What is it?
Everybody tries to hide it

At some point you can't do it anymore

You share your feelings with the person

The feeling of loving someone

But is there always a good ending?

Very touching – NEVEN WENGER

Our Situation

People dying because of the virus
But that isn't the only crisis

Discrimination
Worsening the overall situation

Separation
Because of the constant isolation

Education
Being upheld

But motivation
Dying out

I hope sharing your feelings poetically is a bit motivating at least ... — NEVEN WENGER

Why?

Why are we challenged like this?
Is it because we are wrong doers?
If so what have we done to deserve this?
Why do we have to suffer through this?
Will it ever end or are we going to suffer forever?
Why are we still here, just to suffer?

A conversation with God ... — NEVEN WENGER

Original sin ... — NEVEN WENGER
